WARDEN AND REEVES AT PRESENTATION

The Highlands of Haliburton tartan was presented publicly on Wed., Oct. 30 for the first time at a meeting held in the Haliburton County Building with representatives from different townships in the county, and directors of the Chamber of Commerce in attendance.

Mr. Dave Edwards, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce outlined the birth of the Tartan. The tartan will be made into ties, skirts, scarves and many other types of summer and winter apparel that will appeal to the tourist trade. Advertising and publicity issued by the chamber will use the tartan colours. It was designed by Miss Patricia Jenkins of Gagetown, New Brunswick and was hand loomed in Scotland.

The different colours in the tartan have symbolic meanings: the green represents the forests, the blue the lakes and the white the snow and the emblem of Ontario, the trillium. The gold and red represent the pioneers that settled Haliburton County.

Warden L. A. Pritchard, Reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden spoke briefly, mentioning that the tartan would receive the support of the county and that the manufacturing of the finished product from the yard goods would give employment to different groups of people. Mr. Pritchard was presented with a tie and some material that he proudly mentioned would go into a shirt.

"Perhaps it would be an idea to make a kilt of it," quipped chamber of commerce vice-president Dave Edwards.

Colin McDonald represented the Department of Travel and Publicity since the Hon. James Auld had other commitments.

Ties were also presented by chamber of commerce director Mrs. Richard Kirkwood to Reeve Billings of Glamorgan, Reeve Gary Agnew of Monmouth, Deputy-Reeve Mark Vasey of Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships, County Secretary - Treasurer Frank Welch, Glen Hodgson, MPP, Mr. Colin McDonald, of the Department of Travel and Publicity, and to Don Goodwin, representative of Haliburton Division of the Department of Travel and Publicity. Members of the press gallery were also presented with a tie. Press representatives attended from the Minden Progress, Lindsay Post, Watchman - Warde, Peterborough Examiner and CKLY radio.

Originator and prime promoter of the new tartan, Secretary-Manager Norman Craig was commended for his work by the chamber of commerce vice-president at the meeting.

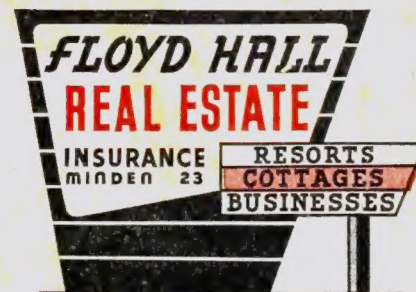

Manufactured goods made from the new tartan were on display after the presentation in the Minden United Church Hall where they were viewed while refreshments were served.

LIQUOR PLEBISCITE SOUGHT IN MINDEN

A petition signed by more than fifty ratepayers and prominent citizens in the townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden was presented to the Minden Council at a council meeting held in the Registry Building on Wednesday, October 23. The petition requested that an issue be placed before the voters of the municipality in regard to whether the people are in favour of the sale of liquor under a dining lounge licence for consumption with meals on licenced premises, and whether they are in favour of the sale of liquor under a lounge licence for consumption on licenced premises. A five-page brief outlining the benefits of the two issues was also presented to the council. After accepting the petition the council decided to act accordingly towards initiating follow-up procedures and to request the Liquor Control Board of Ontario to prepare the necessary bylaws and set the required date for a vote on the issues involved.

The highest reward for a man's toil is not what he gets for it, but what he becomes by it.

"If more men would slap their wives on occasion, there would be fewer divorces," says a judge. Perhaps so, but there would be more funerals.

PARKING PROBLEM

A committee consisting of Reeve L. A. Pritchard, Deputy Reeve M. Vasey, and Road Superintendent Earl Hewitt has been formed to investigate the parking problem in Minden. The committee is to find increased parking facilities adjacent to the main street. Much of the present parking area will disappear when the new Municipal Office Building is erected in the arena yard. This area had been used for off street parking in the past. Another duty of the committee is to investigate and recommend a paving, a sidewalk and a sewage program.

FOR WINTER WORKS

The council of Anson, Hindon and Minden have applied for subsidy at once, under the Winter Works Incentive Program, in regards to the excavation and the foundation of the proposed municipal building for an amount of $5,000.00. Gorsline Construction Company of Weston will do the work.

On Sunday, October 27, the Scouts and Cubs held a church parade to the Minden United Church.

It was a beautiful day with approximately thirty five boys on parade. The colour party, consisting of Raymond Rivers, Wayne Johnson and Ricky Dudman, led the parade though town to the church.

The service was centred around young people with the theme being "Honor Thy Father and Mother". Reverend Staples did an excellent job in putting across to the boys that more respect should be given to the parents.

A story about a young lad who was up in the mountains with his friend was told, where the chum had hurt himself and being a long way from the village the young lad's first thought was to leave his chum and return for help by himself. After a little thought, the young lad decided to carry his friend on his back to the village. When he arrived at the village the young lad was exhausted. The doctor in the village stated that if he had attempted to return by himself that he would not have made it. By carrying the extra burden of his friend he was able to muster the extra strength needed to get both himself and his friend back home safely.

Although this story was told to the boys, we adults might take a lesson from it ourselves. If we were to share some more of the burden rather than let the other fellow do it, this world would be a better and a whole lot easier to live in. Think about this the next time you are asked to help in some worthwhile endeavour.

Many thanks from the Cubs and Scouts for the excellent service conducted by Rev. Staples. The congregation was treated to a wonderful hymn sung beautifully by Dianne Earle.

CUBBING

We are pleased to have with us as a cub instructor, Bruce Rockery, who will help us to train the cubs for the next three months. After this time Bruce will be eligible to receive his Cub Instructor badge.

Twenty-two cubs attended the church parade last Sunday and I am proud to say they behaved very well throughout the whole service and parade.

The cub program is well on the way and by the looks of things, and the interest shown, we will have a tough time keeping up with the tests as the boys progress through their star work.

As our assessment date and registration is in November now, the boys were asked to bring $1.00 to pay for their year's subscription and registration fees which includes insurance.

The boys who have just joined the cubs this fall and who have brought their initiation fee of $1.00, do not have to bring an additional fee.

SCOUTING

A going up ceremony was held at Scouts where the troop welcomed Paul Warburton, Dwight Little and Foster Hewitt.

Congratulations are in order for Dale Coulter who received his "Foresters Badge", also Gordon Graham who received his "Handyman and Pathfinder" badge. Steve Berry received his "Pathfinder" badge. I understand that Steve just needs his Ambulance badge to be eligible for his Queen Scout Honours. Keep right at it Steve and be the first at this time to have these honours.

The theme in Scouting for this season is to advance in test work and games will be built around test work as well.

The Scoutmaster has informed the writer that a Winter Survival Camp will be held when the snow is on the ground. A limited number of boys will take part in setting up a camp, using materials at hand (except the food), for shelter, fires, etc. He has indicated that he would like the writer to attend camp as well. (Anyone have an insulated trailer?)

A few weeks ago the troop were given instructions on fire lighting up on Pikes Peak. From what I hear, no one got burnt and the meeting was a very good success.

By the time you read this column, Hallowe'en will be past. For some of you it will have been a lot of fun, others it will be another day, but some of you may have had some sad experiences. I hope that everyone got a lot of fun from this day, and just keep in mind that the water system will be in service soon and you won't want those outdoor buildings anyway.

DID YOU KNOW? — That it is contrary to the Game and Fisheries Act to carry a shotgun loaded with more than three shells. A timely reminder from the Winchester - Western Hunter Safety Clinic for novice hunters preparing for the fall season.

My head reels.
I feel faint,
And oh, so dizzy.

I seem to be treading
On clouds up high
In the boistrous air;

There is an emptiness
And strange feeling
In the pit of my tummy;
As though there was space
For the wind to whistle
Through — gustily.

Gee! What is this Odd feeling, I have?
Ah. Now I know,
What affects me
So strangely;
By heaven's! I'm drunk!

HUNTING DANGERS

Living as we do in an area particularly suitable to hunting, most of us realize that it is a dangerous sport. This is once again the season of "accidental shootings" when fellow hunters are shot in the belief that they are deer, moose, bear or pheasants. Let's face it, many of these "accidents" are caused by hunters who drink and don't know whether they are shooting at deer, men or pink elephants. Drunken hunters should be treated like drunken drivers; their licences revoked and the hunters jailed. They are as much a menace in the bush as the drive is on the highway.

Other hunting accidents are caused by inexperience and plain stupidity. Perhaps the answer to this would be more stringent tests for Ontario hunters as promised by the Minister of Lands and Forests, Kelso Roberts. Perhaps the German system of making hunters join a hunting club and being permitted to hunt only after acquiring a certificate of proficiency, or go out with a registered guide might serve in this province.

Writer Gregory Clark once said that he had been shot at so many times that he could only attribute his longevity to a combination of smallness of stature and some damned poor shooting!

THE GRIEVANCE MAN

A novel method of dealing with the miscarriage of justice that can happen between private individuals and government departments has been in operation in Sweden and other Scandinavian countries for some time. A Parliamentary Commissioner, or Grievance Man watches over civil and military affairs and is elected by parliament to investigate all private grievances of citizens. The "Grievance Man" has free access to all hospitals, mental homes, prisons and barracks and every member of the government including ministers is obliged to provide him with any documents or information he may require in his investigation of grievances. Although he cannot himself reverse a government order he can recommend directly to Parliament that the minister in question be brought to account. A similar system to this is to be incorporated in the Norwegian constitution and recently New Zealand instituted the practice of having a Grievance Man or Ombudsman as he is known in some countries. An organization of lawyers in Britain known as "Justice" have been studying these experiments to see if they can be applied there. We do not know whether the matter has been looked into in Canada but this safeguard against a miscarriage of justice does seem to have considerable merit.

DOLLS AND WHEELS

By CHARLES MCGREGOR

In the Toronto Telegram a staff reporter let's off steam . .

Contrary to the modern myth, women drivers are not better than men. They're largely inconsiderate, usually thoughtless, sometimes belligerent and almost always a nuisance behind the wheel of a car.

There are no good lady drivers — just some better than others.

In a crisis, a woman can be depended upon to do two things. She'll get nervous. She'll make the wrong move.

This is unnerving and infuriating to the male driver beside or behind her, who knows what his own reactions would be but can't predict those of a woman.

As a result, the man bails the woman out by taking evasive action with his own car, thereby taking another giant step toward a developing peptic ulcer.

TO THE EDITOR, MINDEN PROGRESS

Dear Sir:

When I wrote my letter "Where has the summer gone" a few weeks ago I had hoped to see a few comments from other readers either for or against my suggestion to make Labour Day the second Monday in September, and thereby gain an extra week of tourist business for our area.

Unfortunately, my letter was rather badly garbled through typographical errors. You mentioned the fact that gremlins managed to get into the type setting in a later issue but actually it was still unintelligible and I was rather disappointed at not seeing any reply from other readers regarding the suggestion to extend the summer season by an extra week.

Sombody has to start this type of thing. Why couldn't our little group in the Minden area be the primary promoters under the sponsorship of the "Minden Progress"?

Yours truly,
Ralph Percy

MINDEN LEADS THE WAY

Recently at an Anson, Hindon and Minden council meeting the council made a decision that made them leaders in Haliburton in regards to the necessity of building a Senior Citizens Home. The council decided to inform the Senior Citizens Home Committee that the township was in favour of erecting the home and would support it and co-operate with the committee. The council doesn't seem to have any doubt that the majority of ratepayers are in favour of the project. The Senior Citizens Home Committee will report its findings, that have been tabulated from replies received from the county's ratepayers, at the fall session of County Council. If the majority of ratepayers agree that the construction of the home is necessary for the welfare of our elderly people each township then has no alternative but to support it.

HODGSON BROTHERS MAKE HISTORY IN THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE

The sons of former federal member of parliament — Clayton W. Hodgson of Haliburton — made political history on the provincial front today . . . They became the first brothers serving in the Ontario Legislature at the same time after being sworn in as members at a Queen's Park ceremony.

Chief election officer Roderick Lewis said he thought it was the first time in Ontario history that two brothers have served in the house at the same time.

Glen, 37, a Haliburton lumberman, retained the riding of Victoria for the Progressive Conservatives in the Sept. 25 election, a seat held for the PCs since 1937 by former premier Leslie Frost. Louis, 27, a salesman and former assistant director of safety education in the Department of Transport, won the new riding of Scarborough East.

Sons of Clayton Hodgson, long-time federal member of Parliament for Victoria, both men were victors in their first try for political office. Mr. Hodgson Sr., who was MP for Victoria for 18 years, retired from the political field before the April federal election.

KINMOUNT YOUTH FINED

A Kinmount youth who objected to police taking his car keys was fined $50 and costs last Monday by Magistrate C. W. Guest for impaired driving.

Boyd Watson, 20, first asked Const. James Plumtree of the OPP for the return of the keys, then when this failed swore at the constable. The officer said he was questioning another youth in his cruiser on October 19 when Watson drove in front, came to the cruiser and asked why his friend was being questioned. Const. Plumtree said Watson smelled of alcohol and he took his keys as he considered his ability to drive was impaired.

An earlier vote held last December turned down Sunday movies by 15 votes.

BETWEEN THE HAY STACKS ...

Hog Marketings to Level Off

Total hog marketings across Canada will tend to level off somewhat during the coming 12 months, according to the latest forecast of the Canada Department of Agriculture. From October, 1963, to September, 1964, marketings are expected to run between 135,000 and 139,600 head per week.

Hog Price Forecast

Hog prices this fall will range in the $25-$26 level (Grade "A" Toronto), according to the Farm Business Report released by the Department of Agricultural Economics at O.A.C., Guelph. Current hog prices in Toronto this week are about $25.90 for Grade "A's".

The general increase in hog marketings expected next year will likely mean $2-$3 lower hog prices in 1964 than in 1963. The Report suggests that there will probably be less reliance on U.S.

pork imports than has been the case for the past year or so, with lower Canadian prices relative to those across the border.

Cattle Outlook

Lower average prices for slaughter cattle in 1964, are also predicted in the Ontario Farm Business Report. Beef prices in the U.S. are expected to be under pressure from increased supplies. With current U.S. prices running well below those of a year ago, it is unlikely that U.S. purchases of feeder cattle from Canada will equal those of the past two years.

OVER 75 LEGIONNAIRES PARADE AT ZONE F-4 FALL RALLY

Over 75 Legionnaires paraded at Kinmount Sunday when Zone 44 of the Canadian Legion held their fall rally. Pipers of the Bowmanville Legion Pipe Band led the parade to the cenotaph where District Commander Paddy Burke of Peterborough and Zone Commander Ian Scott of Lindsay placed a wreath in honour of those who gave their lives in two wars.

The parade returned to the Legion Hall and after dismissal gathered for the zone meeting chaired by Zone Commander Ian Scott. Reeve Peter Pearson, expressed council's good wishes to the assembled Legionnaires from Lindsay, Bobcaygeon, Brechin, Haliburton, Omeme, Cannington, Fenelon Falls and Kinmount.

WARP and WOOF

OCTOBER has played the Pied Piper rôle to the hilt. We've followed along breathlessly enjoying the wild and glorious combinations of colors, soft winds and balmy days, wishing it would never end. When have the flowers bloomed so gaily until the end of Autumn? When have sun worshippers basked so long? Shorts and summer clothing just about worn to a frazzle, and that old black debbil, the furnace, still slumbering in the basement! When indeed, has it refused to rain for such a long period . . . the wells and cisterns dried . . . and the farmer actually buying water in this Land O' Lakes. Ah, that is when the Piper gets his pay . . . for pay we must . . . The herd to water . . . the soil without moisture . . . the short crop next year with scarcity bringing higher prices for all to pay . . . but the Piper marches briskly on . . . well paid.

Canada . . . The Incredible Tree . . . It is fitting that the leaf of a tree should be the national symbol of Canada. Whether or not the most appropriate species was selected may be open to argument; but that we should have chosen a tree is not. Upon our forests, more than any other single factor, depend our financial health at home and the extent of our foreign trade. One out of every three dollars we earn abroad flows from the harvest of the forest, and a third of all our primary production stems from the woodlands. All Canadians, whatever their job or location, share this wealth.

In selecting a national emblem there were many trees to choose from. In Canada there are 135 different species of native trees, from the Pitch Pine which appears only in the Thousand Islands, to willows that are found everywhere. But the most numerous and the most prolific are the conifers. There are 35 species of them in Canada. This country possesses one tenth of the world's forests, 1,700,000 square miles of them. Close to one half the total land area of Canada is wooded. The sawmill industry, which employs some 50,000 people has an annual output of $546 million; and the pulp and paper industry, which provides employment for 80,000 permanent workers and 200,000 seasonal workers has a production value of $1½ billion, in short the largest and most valuable producer in Canada. Only ten per cent of the productive forests are privately owned. For every Canadian there are 60 acres of woodland in the total forests of Canada.

The Federal Forestry Department was created to develop and give more emphasis to research and other efforts leading to better forest operations and management, and also to co-operate with the provinces in conducting forest surveys and inventories that will provide the knowledge for improved forest management. Industry can protect the forests against misuse by saw and axe and against disease and ravaging insects. It cannot protect them against fools. The individual who carelessly destroys a tree is doing himself, his fellows, and his country a great disservice. For the tree, the bountiful, beautiful, incredible tree, is God's choicest gift to man, given him for his pleasure and his profit; given him so that his eyes may look upon beauty and his soul taste peace. Those to whom the tree has been given in plentitude are not its owners. They are its trustees and its wardens and should be ever mindful of their obligation to it.

One cup soft butter, 2½ cups (approx.) sifted all purpose flour, half cup sifted icing sugar. Use soft butter. Cream well and gradually beat in sugar. Then mix in the flour, part at a time, until the dough is stiff enough to handle. Turn on to lightly floured surface and knead in remaining flour until the dough begins to crack. Chill several hours. Set oven at 325 and roll dough to one-eighth inch thickness. Make fancy shapes or just cut in bars and bake 5 to 10 minutes.

News and Views

from the Minister's Study

In my last column, concerned with the regulations governing the Sacrament of Infant Baptism, space prevented mentioning that the sessions of the Minden, Maple Lake and Carnarvon United Churches have set aside four Sundays as Baptismal Sundays: the second Sunday of September, December, February and May. This will mean that the next regular Baptismal Services will be on December 8th and parents are asked to contact me at least one week in advance so that arrangements can be made for periods of instruction.

A week ago, I took part in a meeting at Coboconk as the convener of Home Missions for Lindsay Presbytery. A special committee was set up by the Presbytery to meet with representatives of Victoria Road, Cobonck and Bury's Green charges and to seek ways and means of carrying out a more effective ministry across this whole district. It was of particular interest to me because of the two prevailing factors which had to be considered in any solution to the problems! The first was that a single minister was responsible for pastoral care of about two hundred and fifty families in an area that was roughly twenty-five miles in length and ten to twelve miles in breadth. Numerically this is not a terribly heavy load, but when the hours of driving time to keep in touch with several communities and to have oversight of the organization of several congregations is taken into account, the task is just too much for a man to do effectively. The other factor that entered into the situation was the influx of summer visitors during the three summer months. The church must serve wherever people are and it must seek to bring the ministry of Jesus Christ to folk while on vacation as well as the other nine months of the year. This means that churches in our rural communities must be responsible for the spiritual life of people during the time that they are in our midst, and this will mean in turn that some support for this seasonal ministry must be found either directly from those who worship in our churches throughout the summer or indirectly through assistance of our Home Missions Boards. This is part of our changing way of life and the churches have got to change so as to meet the new situation, and so a re-thinking process must take place.

While on the matter of CHANGE, I am reminded of Jesus' remark at the conclusion of the Parable of the Unjust Steward (Luke 16:1-12). He comments: "For the children of this world are wiser than the children of light in their own generation." While we may look back with nostalgia upon the days when we watched the grocer slice the bologna in front of us or cut a thick slab from the round of cheese, we know in our mind that we would not wish to return those days. In the same way, many look back upon the old one room schoolhouse with golden memories, and yet few would want their children to be trained for that kind of life they will have by one teacher struggling to cope with eight grades. Life is changing and with it the institutions which serve it must change.

In so far as the Gospel of Jesus Christ has been entrusted to the organization of the church, the church must ever be open for new and more effective ways to carry out its task. It is disturbing to find out often Jesus' commentary upon religion is borne out in the life of a congregation. Many times adventurous and enthusiastic leaders are resisted by people who in their own work are gladly using the very latest methods available but who feel that the same should not apply to the various ministries of the church. I believe it is due to a mistaken confusion between the changeless message of Christianity and the methods and means by which that eternal truth is conveyed to people in their own time. Bread, the staple of life, is still bread even though now it comes sliced and done up in cellophane wrappers. Christianity is still the power of God unto salvation, even though it be taught with the use of the most modern methods of education.

The church has been given a great commission by her Master and Lord, and she is to be praised when it is carried out with the greatest efficiency possible. Church boards, men's and women's and youth groups, the Sunday School and every other organization ought to be asking of themselves all the time:

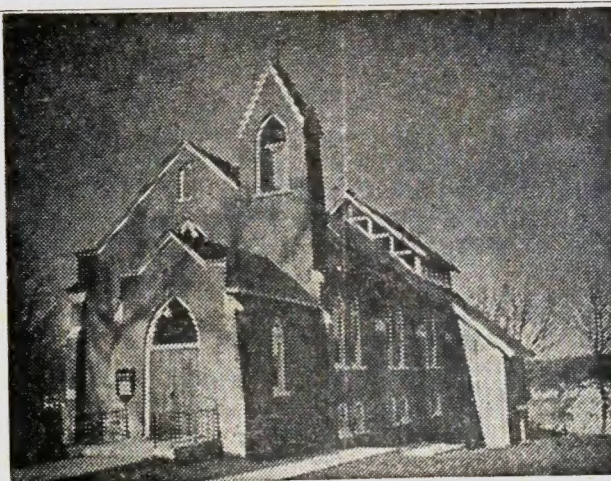

"WHAT IS OUR PURPOSE? and WHAT IS THE BEST POSSIBLE MEANS AVAILABLE TO ACCOMPLISH THAT PURPOSE?"

A meeting of young people from 15-19 years of age will be held on Sunday evening, November 3rd at 7:30 p.m. at the Manse to plan for Hi-C groups.

We invite all interested young folk to this gathering. The program of the groups for the year will be determined by you.

WORTHY OF NOTE: From time to time, there are things that take place in the life of churches to warm the cockles of a preacher's heart. Such is the idea of a congregational supper held on Tuesday at Zion United Church, Carnarvon. The supper has no other purpose than to gather the members of the congregation together for a few hours of fellowship. In a world where everything seems to be a means to some end, this kind of getting together for the sake of sharing a while with others should not be passed un-noticed. To those who were responsible I would like to say sincerely: "THANK YOU."

HALL'S LAKE NEWS

Obituary

A largely attended funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, October 22nd, when friends and relatives paid their last respects to the late James Eldon Russell, who passed away after a lengthy illness at Wellesley Hospital in Toronto on Saturday, October 19th.

The late Mr. Russell came to live in Carnarvon when a boy of seven. He served overseas with the Canadian Engineers in World War I and returned to his home in 1918. He later moved to Toronto where he worked for the T.T.C. and was shortly to retire to his new home at Hall's Lake.

Mr. Russell was the beloved husband of Edith Welch, dear father of Doris (Mrs. A. R. Jennings), Dolores (Mrs. F. Gardner) and a son, Elmer; loving brother of Ada (Mrs. A. Alcorn), Mrs. M. Davies (Mary), both of Haliburton, Ont.; Alice (Mrs. A. Watt), California; Jessie (Mrs. H. Pappineau), Castleton, Ont.; Margaret (Mrs. F. Harrison) of Boshkung, Ont.; two brothers, Sinclair of Carnarvon and Harvey of Toronto. The service was conducted by the Rev. R. Carder from the Welch Funeral Home in Minden, Ont., and burial was at St. Stephen's Cemetery, Boshkung.

Many new and smart-looking buildings are going up around Hall's Lake and over on the "Island". The prolonged good weather has allowed carpenters and the new owners to complete at least the outside structure and at weekends folks are getting on a first coat of paint.

A Hallowe'en party was held at Club 35 on Saturday evening last, sponsored by "Club 35 Association". A lively evening of square dancing and modern dancing, including the twist was enjoyed by a happy group of club members and teen-aged friends. Costumes were hard to judge, but the winners were Ron Martin and Bonnie Stinson. Lunch was served at midnight.

Friday evening was a wonderful night for the children of Boshkung School, their parents and friends. The new teacher, Mrs. Warder, had arranged the evening as a combined open house to view the students' work and a Hallowe'en party for the children. She allowed the executive of the Red Cross group of the school to arrange the program which included skits, poems, readings, plays and choral work, led by Mr. Ralph Hussey. The children from Grades 1 to 8 certainly displayed talent and deserve a lot of credit for their efforts. Candy was sold and refreshments were served and the collection was for their Red Cross funds. This evening was held at Club 35.

Winners of prizes for best costumes were as follows: Donna Rolfe, Rhonda Davies, Christine Stivr, Debbie Rolfe, Gayla Davies, Cheryl Rolfe and Caroline Hewitt for school students and Rosemary Stinson for other than pupils of Boshkung.

Will members and friends please note that the time of the Winter Service at St. Stephen's Boshkung is now 4 p.m. in place of the evening 7:30 service.

WINTER CARNIVAL PARADE

At present it is not known who will be asked to officially open the carnival. Last year the highly successful carnival was opened by the then Minister of Travel and Publicity, Hon. Bryan Cathcart.

SPORTS

WITH BOB BEENEY

While we were sitting around a table at Bill Payne's last week we knocked ideas back and forth trying to get some of the details of the Minden Minor Hockey Association set firmly in our minds. One of the points that we discussed wasn't to do with finances or with the operation of the association but the possible difficulty of getting the parents to share some of the enthusiasm that the youngsters have. Each winter a week is proclaimed Minor Hockey Week and parents are asked to take their kids to the arena, not send them. Our problem is to get the mothers and fathers to attend as many games as possible. In past years it's always been the same parents at the games so let's hope this year there'll be a lot of new faces.

A word of thanks to the Ontario Athletic Commission for the complete set of goaltender's equipment sent to the minor hockey association.

The Ontario Hockey Association has set up a welfare fund to help clubs to provide assistance to O.H.A. players who might suffer serious injury either playing in or travelling to a game. Players and game officials in every association under O.H.A. jurisdiction are eligible for benefits.

Bob Cox, owner of Minden Bowl came up with a promotional stunt that gave four turkeys to four bowlers that came up with scores that were the same as four hidden scores. The lucky winners were Garwood Stevenson, Milt Sears, Gord McMinin and Ray Shaw.

The Department of Lands and Forests plan to compel hunters to pass examinations and legislation will likely be passed next year. Licence-issuing centres would be set up across Ontario, similar to driver test centres, and hunters will be required to pass written and practical tests in safety and gun handling before a licence is issued. Hunters would be required to wear a distinctive coloured patch on their backs with their hunting licence number stamped on it. A chairman for the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters, George Cooke of Cooksville, says his federation would like to see a demerit point system where hunters could lose licences for carelessness.

FORMER PRINCIPAL

AT HIGH SCHOOL

The auditorium of the Haliburton County District High School was filled to capacity with graduates, parents and their friends for the annual commencement exercises last week.

N. A. Sisco, B.A., assistant superintendent of Secondary Education for the Ontario Department of Education, was the commencement speaker. He began his address with humorous reminiscences of his years as principal of the Haliburton high school. He went on to discuss history as interpreted by the eminent historian, Arnold Toynbee and stated that from observing the rise and fall of societies it could be seen that social progress came from adversity. Mr. Sisco compared the achievements of the Egyptian civilization before Christ who inhabited swampy lands on the Nile, compared with the lack of progress among nomadic tribes of the Middle East who had grasslands where life was fairly easy. He then stated that the same truth operated among individuals and claimed that those people who became truly great usually had to overcome great handicaps or personal misfortune.

"This stage of your life is not the end of your development but rather the beginning," said Mr. Sisco.

The valedictory speaker, Miss Marilyn Rennick, stated in her address that education in its broadest meaning did not mean schooling but rather the development of character within the framework of our Christian heritage.

Principal J. Douglas Hodgson, chairman of the proceedings said that school success is largely determined by student's home life. Addressing the graduates he said, "I hope you have learned that this is a world for workers and that work demands best effort. You must do your duty with diligence and intelligence."

W.A. MEETS

St. Paul's W.A. held their first evening meeting Tuesday, October 22 in the parish hall. There were more members out which is very encouraging. The hammer blows coming from the basement were music to our ears for we knew a remodelled kitchen was in the making.

Our president, Mrs. Lytle led us in devotions, and during our business discussions a vote of thanks was tendered Al Capor for so graciously making posters for our turkey supper.

Mrs. Goodswan gave a most interesting talk on India and Ceylon preparatory to the start of the study book next meeting. Tea and cookies closed a very successful meeting.

DOLLS AND WHEELS

By CHARLES MCGREGOR

In the Toronto Telegram a staff reporter let's off steam . .

Statistics purport to show that women have only about 11 per cent of the accidents. The men have the rest. Great! But what about the accidents they DON'T have because the men watch them all the time — for reasons other than admiration.

Discount the fawning testimony on women's radio programs from truck, bus and cab drivers, who invariably deliver a well-rehearsed speech praising the opposite sex and its driving habits.

They're afraid of thier wives.

And so they acquiesce in harassment by hesitant women jerking through the downtown traffic, straddling the white line and making obscure signals before doing something completely unexpected.

Bob Gorrie was entertained as Rotary's newest member at the latter meeting.

MONARCHS FORM

INTERMEDIATE TEAM

At a public meeting held in the Minden Recreation Centre on Monday, October 28th an executive was chosen to form an Intermediate "C" hockey team to enter in the Ontario Hockey Association. A small group of hockey enthusiasts and players were present at the meeting and elected Lyle McKnight, president; Fred Cooper, manager; Irvin House, treasurer and Dave Sawyer, coach. It will not be known for awhile whether it would be possible for the team to play in a regular league or whether the team would have to play exhibition games all year and then get a bye into the playoffs. The management of the Monarchs stressed the need of more playes to bolster the players that have already been lined up to make the team a contender.

If you are proud of your car and keep it in top shape you may have the feeling that, in an emergency, you could stop on a dime. The truth is, says the Ontario Safety League, at 60 m.p.h. on good dry roads, a motorist can only stop at the end of a string of 5,856 dimes, stretching the length of a football field.
